

STAGES

Summer Program

Begins June 16

What to Expect

- Hang outs and/or virtual wellness activity will be held weekly (drop-in event.)
- Activities at our Skills CITE (practice apartment), teach hands-on independent living skills. These are fun-filled activities you can do with your peers while also learning a bit about independence
- Employment and business tours
- Fun Friday that includes activities such as kayaking, a trip to the Saginaw Zoo, etc.

Calendar

As always, the STAGES calendar is a tentative plan for the summer. It will be important to have good contact info to keep interested people updated as weather could affect our schedule. If you have an email that is regularly checked please include it. You can give us a student one and a parent email address if you each have one.

When our calendar comes out, look over the list that follows and choose the activities that you think you will want to be involved in and fill out your registration form. Your response will help us determine the group size to expect at each event. Signing up for an event does not mean you can't change your mind if something comes up or your job interferes. Registration for most events stays open until the event occurs; however, there may be a few activities that will have limited participation, when those events are full registration for that event will be closed.

We always make sure to communicate changes to those who have signed up. Those who sign up will get an email or letter with specific details about when and where to meet for each event. It will be our intention to communicate by email each Monday the details of the activities for that week.
